Breath of Life Tournament

in memory of Wendy Beck

2010 Tournament Exceeds Expectations

Tom Brock, WorleyParsons Vice President of Procurement, presents Sissy Boyd of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF) with a check for $120,000 to be used for Cystic Fibrosis research.

WOW! Another successful tournament which has far exceeded our expectations. WorleyParsons' 13th Annual Breath of Life Golf Tournament, benefiting the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, was held on Monday, October 11, 2010. A remarkable $120,000.00 was raised in a year of an economic downturn; what a wonderful tribute to an organization that depends solely on private donations for research!

A huge THANKS to all those who participated, especially to our sponsors and donors.

We had 270 players and over 50 volunteers, without whom we could not have had such a successful tournament.

Our tournament this year will be on Monday, October 10th, 2011 at Sweetwater Country Club. As always, the event will include, lunch, auctions, raffles, dinner, and much more.

We look forward to seeing you all again for another fun filled day of food, drink, prizes, more food, and oh yes, golf.

We are expecting an even bigger success in the 2011 year, so, mark you calendars and be sure to join WorleyParsons for our 14th year as sponsor and host of this most deserving charity event.

Cystic Fibrosis: What You Need to Know

What Is Cystic Fibrosis?

Cystic fibrosis (CF) is an inherited chronic disease that affects the lungs and digestive system of about 30,000 children and adults in the United States (70,000 worldwide). A defective gene and its protein product cause the body to produce unusually thick, sticky mucus that clogs the lungs and leads to life-threatening lung infections; and obstructs the pancreas and stops natural enzymes from helping the body break down and absorb food.

In the 1950s, few children with cystic fibrosis lived to attend elementary school. Today, advances in research and medical treatments have further enhanced and extended life for children and adults with CF. Many people with the disease can now expect to live into their 30s, 40s and beyond.

Symptoms of CF

People with CF can have a variety of symptoms, including:

- Very salty-tasting skin;
- Persistent coughing, at times with phlegm;
- Frequent lung infections;
- Wheezing or shortness of breath;
- Poor growth/weight gain in spite of a good appetite; and
- Frequent greasy, bulky stools or difficulty in bowel movements.

Statistics

- About 1,000 new cases of cystic fibrosis are diagnosed each year.
- More than 70% of patients are diagnosed by age two.
- More than 45% of the CF patient population is age 18 or older.
- The predicted median age of survival for a person with CF is in the mid-30s.

The CF Foundation (CFF)

Since 1955, CFF has been the driving force behind the pursuit of a cure. Thanks to the dedication and financial backing of supporters—patients, families and friends, clinicians, researchers, volunteers, individual donors, corporations and staff, they are making a difference.

The Science of Adding Tomorrows

When a group of parents started CFF in 1955, they set their sights high—to advance understanding of this little known disease, to create new treatments and specialized care for their children, and to find a cure.

Continuous progress has been made toward these goals thanks to the CFF's efforts to harness the best minds in science, recruit the finest research talent and train dedicated cystic fibrosis care teams.

Part of the CFF's "formula for success" remains its ability to attract scientists from new fields to join in the mission to increase the length and improve the quality of life for people with CF. Researchers from diverse disciplines, such as molecular biology, immunology and medicinal chemistry, routinely collaborate to find new strategies to tackle the disease. This multidisciplinary approach to research was pioneered by the CFF, and later adopted by other disease organizations.

The discovery of the CF gene in 1989—the single most important discovery in CF research—was the result of an international research collaboration. With the CF gene in hand, CFF researchers for the first time could make a healthy version of the gene for further study.

In 1993, the first gene therapy treatment was given to a CF patient, and gene therapy research was truly launched. At the same time, other research teams were searching for ways to correct the faulty protein product of the genes and discover new treatments that addressed symptoms.

By pursuing several research strategies at once, the CF Foundation has built a pipeline of potential new CF therapies. There are currently more than two-dozen therapies in development—more than at any time in the Foundation's 51-year history.

To keep "stocking" this pipeline with promising therapeutics, many CF researchers continue to translate new knowledge from basic science laboratories into potential therapies.

Our Volunteers

Every year WorleyParsons organizes a group of volunteers to help support the Breath of Life Golf Tournament and the CF Foundation. Employees of both WorleyParsons and other tournament sponsors come together to give of their time to see that the day runs without a glitch. It is a special sight to see when WorleyParsons employees, customers, and suppliers all come together to support this worthy event. The Golf Tournament is always a huge success - our volunteers are the reason! Without them, the tournament would truly be impossible to hold. It is part of the proof that supports the statement that the organization's best asset is its people.

The volunteers are involved in a lot of behind the scenes coordination; everything from course setup, to registration, to photography, to hole-in-one witnesses, to the all-important beverage carts, to evening ticket sales, and joking around with the players. It all makes for a challenging, but rewarding, fun, and exciting day!

Last year was better than ever and our volunteers are to thank! We received multiple compliments stating how well things ran. We are looking forward to doing it again this year!!

Although the tournament itself does not start until after lunch, there are positions to fill throughout the day - anywhere from 7 AM until 8 PM. There is a spot for any and everyone looking to get involved - part of the day, all of the day, inside, or outside!

We always close the day with a dinner, silent auction, and raffle event. This is always a big success for our tournament and it is one of the highest quality dinner meals provided after any charity golf tournament around. It is great to close the day with a very nice meal and a cold drink.

Since it is such an important part of the day, we always want the volunteers to partake in the meal and the events which take place!

The bottom line is this: our volunteers make this tournament successful every year. Let's do it again!

Would you consider bringing value to the tournament by volunteering this year?
